

Fall Internships at Gather Activism

We are currently seeking students passionate about political technology. If you are interested in any of the positions below, please complete our online application. We will accept applications on a rolling basis.

Outreach Intern

The outreach intern will work on performing direct outreach to community organizers, down-ballot candidates, and other political organizations to onboard them onto Gather's Community platform. This intern will regularly touch base with current communities to build engagement, analyze their experience, work on featuring their activities on Gather's newsletters.

Communications Intern

The communications intern will work on developing and refining Gather's messaging and voice, utilizing our existing marketing channels, and creating new marketing strategies to attract organizers and users. Roles will include social media engagement, email marketing, writing/blogging, and graphic design. Previous experience in marketing is highly preferred, and experience working on communications within the political space is ideal. Skills in email marketing tools and content creation (i.e. blogs, videos, infographics, etc.) are strongly preferred.

Research Intern

The research intern will work with the software, communications, and outreach teams to analyze and research questions that will guide product and operation decisions. We see this position as our 'optimizer,' looking at information relevant to Gather's growth. The intern will be asked to take on short research projects, condensing it, and reporting it back to our three teams to help guide their decisions moving forward. Technical data analysis skills not necessary but certainly preferred. Rudimentary understanding of technology and politics is required.

Questions?

Feel free to reach out to Charlie Rollason, our Communications Director, at charlie@gatheractivism.com.

GATHER